Reconnecting the community & responding to the ever changing SEND landscape

After 3 years of connecting through virtual platforms we are delighted to share that this spring EfL & LearningShared are hosting a series of regional live events.

The complexity threshold has clearly shifted in all of our school communities and against a backdrop of continued challenge we need to be agile & responsive to the needs of learners who are presenting in different ways than we perhaps have ever seen.

In such times of challenge the EfL & LearningShared community comes together in the spirit of collegiality & professional generosity to share expertise and seek collective solutions. We have assembled a range of inspiring leaders & practitioners who will guide our professional learning and conversations as we explore the burning issues around inclusive education & SEND.
